

To Me, To You... Company Class

Wired Aerial Theatre is redeveloping their playful outdoor aerial dance work, To Me, To You... with Directorial Consultant, Liam Steel.

We are excited to be extending our regular Company Class during this redevelopment period to professionals and final year degree students, who are invited to take part in the daily warm up sessions led by company members, and designed to prepare and strengthen the body for the requirements of this work and the upcoming national tour.
